For our customers and suppliers:

Hexagon Metrology is expanding

Hexagon is a global leading group within metrology. The group's business concept is to develop and market leading technologies and services for measuring in one, two or three dimensions, positioning and updating of objects, and time optimization of processes.

Hexagon has 8 000 employees in 35 countries. Hexagon is divided into three business units, Geosystems, Metrology and Technologies.

Hexagon Metrology in the Nordic countries has until now been divided into two separate companies, CE Johansson and Hexagon Metrology Nordic. CE Johansson conducts production, development and sales of hand tools, customised measuring systems and medical equipment. Hexagon Metrology Nordic provides goods and services for all applications within industrial metrology.

Two companies become one

In order to offer our customers a simpler and more effective handling of measuring products and services we will from January 1st 2010 merge our two companies. CE Johansson will thereby become a part of Hexagon Metrology Nordic AB.

We will be able to offer the market a broader and deeper product portfolio, which covers the entire field of metrology products from hand tools, service and portable optical measuring systems to production integrated coordinate measuring systems. Together we will be the strongest partner on the market for industrial metrology. This will strengthen the organisation, improve the geographical coverage and by that reinforce our service levels.
